Munster Junior Cup Quarter Final

Cork Constitution F.C. V Clanwilliam R. F.C.

Temple Hill Sunday 12th March 2017 14.30 PM

The prestigious Munster Junior Challenge Cup consistently produces ties which guarantee intense effort and skill with a bit of high drama thrown in for good measure. Sunday's clash between Constitution, last year's beaten finalists, and Clanwilliam, beaten finalists in 2014, looks set to continue this tradition.

In the last round a very determined Crosshaven side came close to causing an upset against Constitution when a great start saw them race into a 13-5 lead after thirty minutes. The sides were level 13-13 at half time however, Constitution finished strongly to run out deserving winners 30-20. Barry Galvin, Vincent O'Brien, Luke Duffy and Sean O'Leary scored tries for Con and Jamie Murphy kicked two conversions and two penalties.

Clanwilliam advanced to the quarter finals with a 21-9 away win at Cobh. This was a very competitive game and it was only in the final quarter that two tries for Clanwilliam made victory certain.

The style of rugby the Tipperary town side play is high paced and full of rapid tempo. They also have a proven match winner in Niall Leahy who kicked three penalties and a conversion in their victory over Cobh. They are bound to cause problems for Constitution who will have to make their home advantage count if they are to prevail.

The Ulster Bank Club International between Ireland Club XV V England Club XV takes place in Temple Hill on 17 March 2017.

The Clubs side is truly representative of Irish club rugby with players from twelve different Ulster Bank League clubs named in the squad for the international.

Constitution players Max Abbott, Rob Jermyn and Ger Sweeney are likely starters for the International. Rob Jermyn is thrilled at the prospect of winning an Ireland Club International cap against England especially playing in his home club.

"The Ireland Club side have enjoyed success in Temple Hill and hopefully there will be a good reception for us in Cork, and a big crowd comes out and watches us try to get another win"
